Deighton Pierce Glynn Solicitors		Deighton Pierce Glynn is a law firm which uses the law to enforce the rights of the disadvantaged of society, hold the state to account for its actions, challenge discrimination and fight human rights and environmental abuses.	The SLF provided funding to develop legal arguments with a view to challenging eligibility criteria for Free School Meals, the operation of the Pupil Premium, and to explore whether the Pupil Premium addresses underlying inequalities and tackles disadvantage amongst pupils who most need this, in line with its stated aim. The work will have a particular on focus EU Roma children.	3,000	1	National/London Focus
Deighton Pierce Glynn (Bristol)		Deighton Pierce Glynn is a law firm which uses the law to enforce the rights of the disadvantaged of society, hold the state to account for its actions, challenge discrimination and fight human rights and environmental abuses.	The SLF provided funding to the Bristol office of DPG for pre-litigation research into the practice of prematurely moving young trafficking victims who claim asylum out of safe house accommodation and into the asylum support system, and of placing them directly in the asylum support system, with possible implications for those affected of completing the transition to a life free of trafficking.	9,200	1	National/London Focus
Ealing Law Centre	www.ealinglawcentre.org.uk	Ealing Law Centre provides free specialist legal advice and representation to local residents in all areas of social welfare law, particularly to those most disadvantaged.	The SLF provided funding to develop a challenge to the absence of discretion in relation to the application fee, and to the narrow interpretation of the British Nationality Act 1981 in respect of registering children as British citizens. The focus of the grant is in respect of the second issue.	5,000	1	London-wide
Ealing Law Centre	www.ealinglawcentre.org.uk	Ealing Law Centre provides free specialist legal advice and representation to local residents in all areas of social welfare law, particularly to those most disadvantaged.	The SLF awarded funding to undertake pre-litigation research on three connected areas concerning the registration of children as British citizens: the fee requirement, the narrow interpretation of the law and the failure by the Home Office to give proper reasons in refusing applications for registration.	20,000	1	National/London Focus
Fadiga and Co		Fadiga and Co is a law firm that provides a service to individuals and companies across various areas of law, with particular expertise in immigration law.	The SLF provided funding to undertake pre-litigation research to develop a legal challenge against the Home Office over its failure to implement a systems of guardianship for child victims of trafficking. Evidence suggests that currently trafficked children in the UK lack anyone to advocate for their short and long term best interests which means that they are often denied the protection they are entitled to, are criminalised, and do not access education and practical, legal, medical and welfare that they need. Fadiga & Co. will be working with ECPAT UK, Nadine Finch and Parosha Chandran of Garden Court Chambers.	12,000	1	National/London Focus

Matthew Gold Solicitors		Matthew Gold and Company is a specialist firm of solicitors which represents claimants in civil claims usually against public authorities. Its work includes actions for breach of the Human Rights Act and all areas of discrimination law.	The SLF provided funding for pre-litigation research into local authority duties to provide support where a child is living with a parent who has no recourse to public funds, and there is an issue of domestic violence.	17,500	1	National/London Focus
MigrationWork CIC		MigrationWork CIC is a not-for-profit consultancy set up to help communities, practitioners and policy-makers to respond to migration, in ways that ensure both migrant and 'host' communities can benefit from this process and move towards integration.	Trust for London has commissioned MigrationWork to administer the grants programme of the Strategic Legal Fund for Vulnerable Young Migrants.	52,560	1	Islington
Public Interest Lawyers		Public Interest Lawyers is a law firm which helps individuals and non-governmental organisations in holding those in public office to account.	The SLF provided funding for Public Interest Lawyers to bring a third party intervention on behalf of Anti-Slavery International in a case in the Supreme Court. This involves the case of a trafficked girl who sought compensation from her traffickers by appealing to the Employment Tribunal and the Court of Appeal. The case failed in the Court of Appeal on the basis that the appellant was unlawfully present and unlawfully employed in the UK. Anti-Slavery International will argue that the UK has obligations to protect trafficking victims and ensure that they can seek reparation against those who have wronged them.	18,800	1	National/London Focus
RAMFEL - Refugee and Migrant Forum of East London	www.ramfel.org.uk	RAMFEL provides advice, support and advocacy services to asylum seekers, migrants, refugees and BAME communities to enable them to make a positive contribution to their local community.	The SLF provided funding to examine the legal implications for young people and families of Operation Nexus (formerly known as Terminus), which is a pilot project embedding UKBA staff in local police stations. The project will look mainly at the protection, advice and interests of vulnerable young migrants who may get caught up in the pilot as suspects, victims and family members. It will look at the ways in which the pilot was set up and how the equalities impact and other aspects are to be evaluated, liaise with local and national migrant groups, see what legal challenges can be developed where appropriate, and produce briefings for migrant groups and advisers to be used if the pilot is rolled out nationally as proposed.	13,246	2	London-wide

Southwark Law Centre	www.southwarklawcentre.org.uk	Southwark Law Centre provides free specialist legal advice, representation and education for vulnerable people. It prioritises complex cases involving the prevention of homelessness, increase of benefits and the provision of immigration and employment advice.	The SLF provided funding to develop a challenge as to the legality of rules, introduced in July 2012, that impose a "No Recourse to Public Funds" restriction to families who are granted limited leave for 30 months on Article 8 grounds, having established family and private life in the UK. Only after 10 years, following three further extensions of 30 months, are families able to access benefits. The project will focus on working families, and seeks to test the hypothesis that the rules will result in children living in long term poverty.	10,000	1	National/London Focus
